Business information

Mike Gau is a Vice President with Welsch, Flatness, & Lutz, a St. Louis based insurance and risk management firm where he works with organizations to help them manage and control the major risks inherent to their business and their associated costs. Mike's target client profile is privately owned, mid-sized, growing organizations where the key decision makers see value in delivering innovative solutions and top notch customer service.

Outside of Welsch, Flatness, & Lutz, Mike has a deep passion for business, specifically entrepreneurship. Mike is constantly reading up on the concept and hopes to someday join the ranks of men and women who have directly contributed to America's success by starting a company of his own.

Personal Information

Mike is a native St. Louisan, a graduate of St. Louis University High School and Miami University and a current resident of the downtown loft district. When seen at the club, Mike will likely be training for his next marathon or triathlon, playing racquetball or enjoying a fine cigar. Outside the club, Mike enjoys Cardinals baseball, the outdoors, traveling and spending time with friends and family doing any combination of the above.
